

RUN DOWN FROM GRIP

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Have Cured This Form of Debility in Hundreds of Cases.

"Four years ago," says Mrs. F. Morrison, of No. 1922 Carson street, South Side, Pittsburgh, Pa., "I took a cold which turned into the grip. This trouble left me all run down. I was thin, had backache much of the time, had no appetite, my stomach was out of order and I felt nervous and unstrung."

"While I had the grip I had a doctor, but I really suffered more from the condition in which the influenza left me than I did from the disease itself. I felt generally wretched and miserable and the least exposure to cold would make me worse. I couldn't seem to get any better until I began to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I very quickly noticed a benefit after I began taking them and they restored me to good health and strength. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a wonderfully good medicine. Thanks to them I am now in fine health and have had no return of my former trouble. I recommend the pills to everyone who is ailing and take every opportunity to let people know how good they are."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cured Mrs. Morrison because they actually make good, red blood. When the blood is red and healthy there can be no debility. The relation between the blood and nervous system is such that the pills have a very decided action upon the nerves and they have cured many severe nervous disorders, such as partial paralysis, locomotor ataxia and St. Vitus' dance, that have not yielded to ordinary treatment. Their double action, on the blood and on the nerves, makes them an ideal tonic.

All druggists sell Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, or they will be sent by mail postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N.Y.

WHAT WE OWE TO INSECTS.

They Are of the Greatest Benefit to Growing Flowers.

Prof. Darwin said that if it had not been for insects we should never have had any more imposing or attractive flowers than those of the elm, the hop and the nettle. Lord Avebury compares the work of the insect to that of the florist. He considers that just as the florist has by selection produced the elegant blossoms of the garden, so the insects, by selecting the largest and brightest blossoms for fertilization, have produced the gay flowers of the field. Prof. Plateau, of Ghent, has carried out a series of remarkable experiments on the ways of insects visiting flowers. He considers that they are guided by scent rather than by color, and in the connection he is at variance with certain British naturalists. Whatever may be the attraction in flowers to insects—as yet, it appears undefined—it is certain that the latter visit freely all blossoms alike, making no distinction between the large, bright-colored ones and the less conspicuous blossoms like those of the currants, the lime, the planetree, the nettle and the willow.

A TERRIBLE EXPERIENCE.

How a Veteran Was Saved the Amputation of a Limb.

B. Frank Doremus, veteran, of Roosevelt Ave., Indianapolis, Ind., says: "I had been showing symptoms of kidney trouble from the time I was mustered out of the army, but in all my life I never suffered as in 1897. Headaches, dizziness and sleeplessness, first, and then dropsy. I was weak and helpless, having run down from 180 to 125 pounds. I was having terrible pain in the kidneys, and the secretions passed almost involuntarily. My left leg swelled until it was 34 inches around, and the doctor tapped it night and morning until I could no longer stand it, and then he advised amputation. I refused, and began using Doan's Kidney Pills. The swelling subsided gradually, the urine became natural, and all my pains and aches disappeared. I have been well now for nine years since using Doan's Kidney Pills. For sale by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N.Y."

Latest Fad in "Society."

The latest fad in certain eastern society circles is to be glum and cross. One phase of this more than usually absurd affectation takes the form of ignoring letters of introduction and this lack of consideration has roused family feuds in several cases. One wealthy young Italian, who is a member of one of the best Roman families, went to Newport this summer with many letters from prominent persons. But he has found it impossible to present them. "It is foolish to expect anything from social leaders these days and the stranger who asks to be received by letter has a hard time of it," said a young man whose letter to a society matron was ignored.

To Give Work to Russian Company. As nothing came of the attempt last year to raise in Balachava bay the British ironclad with her treasure during the Crimean war, the Russian admiralty officials at Sebastopol now propose to entrust the task of bringing up the treasure to a Russian salvage syndicate.

THE OTHER MAN

HAT are the correct relations between a young dentist and a young woman patient of his?" asked Margery, as she leaned back in her porch chair. "Is that a conundrum?" asked Tom. Margery laughed. "No," she said, "it is a question asked in all good faith of one of our superior intellects."

"Thank you," said Tom. Then he was silent for all of a minute. Margery was silent, also. She spoke first because she is Margery.

"Tell me the answer," she said. "I am going to, in due season," was Tom's reply. "People of superior intellect always take a long time before expressing an opinion. That is the one thing which makes me think you haven't a superior intellect, Margery. What did you do that for?" he concluded, as he dodged a porch mat she had thrown at him. "Didn't I say the one thing? Now, I might have said—"

"Let's go back to the original question," interrupted Margery. "Is this dentist fellow good-looking?" asked Tom.

"What has that to do with it?" retorted Margery, in her snipette tone. "Well, as long as you are the party of the second part, Margery, it has a great deal to do with it."

"Who said I was mixed up in it?" Tom laughed. "Oh, Margery, don't you suppose I know that no pretty girl—and that includes you, of course—worryes over abstract theories, even of social ethics? Now, be a sensible girl, if you can, and tell me if he is handsome?"

"Well," said Margery, with a wicked twinkle in her eye, "he is just about as handsome as you are."

"Oh, very well," said Tom. "That is disposed of. My advice is that you have no social relations with him at all."

"Oh—h," laughed Margery. "You're too late with your advice."

"Why did you ask me, then?"

"What has that to do with it? People never take advice, do they—even"

people who fall short of having superior intellects?"

Tom scowled. Margery rocked back and forth. Still Tom scowled.

Then Margery spoke. "Yesterday he called me up—I suppose he looked up the telephone number in the directory, so don't be silly—and said: 'I wonder when you'll let me try my new machine with you.' My tooth hasn't been hurting me, and I have an aversion to going to the dentist until I'm half dead. Anyway, I've got so much to do—we have, I mean, Tom—so I laughed and said: Oh, I'm having too good a time to waste any of it on a dentist just now."

I thought he acted funny, and I kept on telling him that I had not time for him. And, what do you think, Tom? he wasn't talking about any old dental machine at all, but about his new touring car!"

"At last I understand what he was talking about, and—I'm sorry, Tom, but unless you hurry, I'm afraid you'll be embarrassed by having to leave after he comes. It's all right this once, isn't it?"

Tom sighed. "If you promise never, never—"

"I think I hear the honk-honk," hinted Margery.

"Promise," said Tom.

"All right," said Margery. Then she laughed. "I won't get another chance except when his wife's alone. He's going to be married to a Memphis girl next week, and—do go, Tom."

Tom, so summarily dismissed, went away smiling.—Chicago Daily News.

after he comes. It's all right this once, isn't it?"

COPPER SAFE FROM LIGHTNING.

Belief Firmly Held in Many Parts of the Country.

"This matter of superstitions is a queer thing," said the man as he carefully avoided walking under a ladder, "for even those of us who are skeptics have at least one superstitious failing, and mine is walking under ladders."

"In the country this summer I met a new one, which was firmly believed in by several farmers, and that was that a thunder storm never passed over a copper mine or copper vein. The old fellow who told me about it pointed out again and again that although black clouds might roll up and lightning flash, the storm always went around a certain spot in his farm."

"Such actions on the part of a thunder storm could mean but one thing, he said—that there was a copper vein there. So sure was he of it, that he was putting by a little each year to have the spot investigated to see if there was copper enough in it to work."

Industrious French Workmen.

Nearly all the workmen employed in the naval arsenal at Toulon, France, add to their salaries by exercising another trade during their leisure hours. are hotel carpet beaters, others distribute prospectuses and handbills, or act as parcel carriers for local shopkeepers. One man complained recently in all seriousness that he was so overworked at the arsenal that he had no time to exercise his profession of masseur. A number of arsenal hands actually carry on their supplementary trades in the yards. There are amateur shoemakers, watchmakers and barbers, who carry on a thriving and lucrative business among their comrades.

Had New York Sized Up.

It was a severe criticism made on New York city by a visitor from Nebraska who said: "Yours is a 'short change' town. In three days I have had seven different persons try to cheat me by returning too little change."

INTERESTING CONTEST.

Heavy Cost of Unpaid Postage.

One of the most curious contests ever before the public was conducted by many thousand persons under the offer of the Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., of Battle Creek, Mich., for prizes of 31 boxes of gold and 300 greenbacks to those making the most words out of the letters Y-I-O-Grape-Nuts.

The contest was started in February, 1906, and it was arranged to have the prizes awarded on Apr. 30, 1906. When the public announcement appeared many persons began to form the words from these letters, sometimes the whole family being occupied evenings, a combination of amusement and education.

After a while the lists began to come in to the Postum Office and before long the volume grew until it required wagons to carry the mail. Many of the contestants were thoughtless enough to send their lists with insufficient postage and for a period it cost the Company from twenty-five to fifty-eight and sixty dollars a day to pay the unpaid postage.

Young ladies, generally those who had graduated from the high school, were employed to examine these lists and count the correct words. Webster's Dictionary was the standard and each list was very carefully corrected except those which fell below 8000 for it soon became clear that nothing below that could win. Some of the lists required the work of a young lady for a solid week on each individual list. The work was done very carefully and accurately but the Company had no idea, at the time the offer was made, that the people would respond so generally and they were compelled to fill every available space in the offices with these young lady examiners, and notwithstanding they worked steadily, it was impossible to complete the examination until Sept. 29, over six months after the prizes should have been awarded.

This delay caused a great many inquiries and naturally created some dissatisfaction. It has been thought best to make this report in practically all of the newspapers in the United States and many of the magazines in order to make clear to the people the conditions of the contest.

Many lists contained enormous numbers of words which, under the rules, had to be eliminated "Peggers" would count "Peggers" would not. Some lists contained over 50,000 words, the great majority of which were cut out. The largest lists were checked over two and in some cases three times to insure accuracy.

The $100.00 gold prize was won by L. D. Reese, 1227-15th St., Denver, Colo., with 9941 correct words. The highest $10.00 gold prize went to S. K. Fraser, Lincoln, Pa., with 9921 correct words.

A complete list of the 331 winners with their home addresses will be sent to any contestant enquiring on a postal card.

Be sure and give name and address clearly. This contest has cost the Co. many thousand dollars, and probably has not been a profitable advertisement, nevertheless perhaps some who had never before tried Grape-Nuts food have been interested in the contest, and from trial of the food have been shown its wonderful rebuilding powers.

It teaches in a practicable manner that scientifically gathered food elements can be selected from the field grains, which nature will use for rebuilding the nerve centres and brain in a way that is unmistakable to users of Grape-Nuts.

THEIR VISIT TO MOSCOW HAS BEEN ABANDONED

Storm of Protest Was Raised Against Proposed Action by Members of the British Parliament.

London.—The approaching visit of a British deputation to St. Petersburg for the purpose of presenting an address of sympathy to Prof. Serge Mouroumstov of Moscow, who was president of the lower house of the late parliament, is arousing a storm of indignation and protest both here and in St. Petersburg, and strong influences are being brought to bear to induce the deputation to abandon its visit on the grounds that the presentation of a memorial of sympathy with the late parliament would be an unwarranted act of interference, calculated to lead to violence. The deputation includes half a dozen members of the house of commons and social reformers, and it plans to take an address signed by 300 persons, including members of the house of lords and house of commons, numerous representatives of the clergy and persons prominent in literature.

The committee in charge of the arrangements for the visit met and decided to abandon the visit to Moscow and to await further advice from the Anglo-Russian friendship committee in St. Petersburg, which will be received Thursday and then considered.

NEGROES HAVE COMPLAINT.

Want to Travel in Same Pullman With White People.

Washington.—Representative negroes of the south, on behalf of their race, have complained to the interstate commerce commission of the use by railroads of the south of "Jim Crow" cars for interstate passengers, and have requested the commissioner to investigate the subject and on the development of the facts to issue an order compelling the railroads not to discriminate against negroes on account of their color. The petition filed with the interstate commerce commission is signed by Thomas Oliver and W. P. Johnson of Mississippi and about a dozen other negroes.

CHRISTIAN BURIAL DENIED.

Sympathizers of Terrorists Are Whipped by Cossacks for Humanely Act.

Lodz, Russian Poland.—Five terrorists, sentenced to death by drumhead court-martial, were hanged Wednesday morning. In the afternoon an immense crowd exhumed the bodies of the terrorists, collected offerings for coffins and forced a priest to give a solemn blessing. While this was going on a squadron of cossacks suddenly appeared and charged the crowd, beating the people with whips and swords. Many persons were injured and thirty were arrested. The cossacks compelled the prisoners to rebury the bodies of the terrorists.

FUNSTON COMING HOME.

General Bell to Take His Place in Looking After Cubans.

Havana.—General Frederick Funston will not continue in command of the American forces in Cuba. Governor Taft announced Wednesday that he and General Funston will leave Havana for the United States on Saturday on the battleship Louisiana. With them will go Assistant Secretary of State Bacon and the affairs of Cuba will be left in the hands of Governor Magoon and General J. Franklin Bell.

Killed Girl Who Refused Him.

Cleveland, O.—In the presence of sixty pupils in the South Euclid school, Harry Smith, 25 years old, shot to death Miss Mary Shepard, a teacher, 22 years old. Cornered behind the barn in the rear of his home in Warrensville two hours later, Smith shot himself through the head, dying instantly. Disappointment in love is said to have been the motive for the cold-blooded murder. Smith, who was a fourth cousin of Miss Shepard, had wooed her for some time, and recently was rejected.

Fell From Hotel Window.

Chicago.—Miss Florence McDonald, 26 years old, a member of the chorus in the "Blue Moon" company, now playing at a downtown theatre, was killed early Wednesday by falling out of a fourth-story window in the Windsor Clifton hotel. The young woman plunged into an air shaft, and her body struck the heavy plate glass roofing of the rotunda on the second floor. She was removed to the Wesley hotel, where she died about an hour afterwards.

Cuban Steals a Million.

New York.—The assignment of J. M. Ceballos & Co., bankers and merchants, with liabilities between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000, was announced Wednesday in a statement which declared that the failure was due to the defalcation and absconding of Manuel Silveira of Silveira & Co., Havana. Silveira's defalcation is alleged to amount to about $1,000,000. He sailed from Havana on October 2 ostensibly for New York City to consult with the members of J. M. Ceballos & Co., but has not reached this city.

KING OF SAFE-BREAKERS.

Marvelous Delicacy of Hearing Possessed by Milner James.

"Milner James was the most artistic safe-breaker in the business," said Lecoq the detective. "He is dead now. He opened in his time over 700 safes without tools or gunpowder solely by working out the combination with his delicate and patient fingers. "It took me a year," he once said, "to learn the trick of picking combinations. I studied all the locks there were and I had three safes of different makes to practice on. The ear is the most important factor in my method and it must be held tight against the safe door on a line with the tumblers. When the knob of the lock is turned slowly and one of the tumblers reaches the notch corresponding to the first number of the combination the tumbler will fall with a little click. Care must be taken not to displace this tumbler. You keep on trying the knob back and forth gently till each of the tumblers drops. Then the door opens. Hardly one man in a thousand has an ear delicate enough for this work and to be a success at it you've got to give up tobacco and alcohol."

DAY OF TRIUMPH POSTPONED.

Dudekins Has Yet to Get Even with Witty Chamer.

She had been having fun with poor Dudekins for a long time, and he was wishing to get even with her. His idea took the form of a brilliant conundrum, whose answer Dudekins thought was locked in his manly chest. "I have a conundrum for you, Miss Frances," he said, when he next met her. "Ah!" she responded. "What is it? Who gave it to you?" "I made it up myself!" he asserted, bridling somewhat. "Indeed! What is it?" "Why are my clothes like the moon?" She hesitated a moment, and Dudekins began to look triumphant. "You may think," she said, slowly—and Dudekins somehow felt the sand slipping from under him—"it is because they have a man in them, and you have a perfect right to think as you please. But, Mr. Dudekins, opinions differ!"

Treasures for the Louvre.

Attention is called by the Travelers' Gazette to recent acquisitions by the Louvre, notably of a life size bust in chalk, primitively colored, of the hermit king of the eighteenth dynasty, Akhoumalon, or Amenophis IV., one of the strangest figures in the long line of the Pharaohs. The bust is a remarkably fine specimen of the art of the period, and is well preserved. Besides this, there are four sepulchral urns in blue porcelain from the tomb of Rameses II. In these urns was found, besides funeral linen, certain organic matter, which is being chemically examined.

WOMEN WHO CHARM

HEALTH IS THE FIRST ESSENTIAL

It Helps Women to Win and Hold Men's Admiration, Respect and Love

Woman's greatest gift is the power to inspire admiration, respect, and love. There is a beauty in health which is more attractive to men than mere regularity of feature.

To be a successful wife, to retain the love and admiration of her husband, should be a woman's constant study. At the first indication of ill-health, painful or irregular periods, headache or backache, secure Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and begin its use.

Mrs. Chas. F. Brown, Vice-President Mothers' Club, 21 Cedar Terrace, Hot Springs, Ark., writes: "Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—For nine years I dragged through a miserable existence, suffering with inflammation and female weakness and worn out with pain and weariness. One day I noticed a statement by a woman suffering as I was, but who had been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I determined to try it. At the end of three months I was a different woman. Every one remarked about it, and my husband fell in love with me all over again. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound built up my entire system, cured the trouble, and I felt like a new woman. I am sure it will make every suffering woman strong, well and happy, as it has me."

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, backache, bloating (or flatulence), displacements, inflammation or ulceration, that "bearing-down" feeling, dizziness, faintness, indigestion, or nervous prostration may be restored to perfect health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
